

Ja'Duke Center for the Performing Arts (JCPA) seeks to educate and inspire people of all ages in the various areas of performing arts including singing, dancing and acting.

The center strives to incorporate and emphasize the aspect of performance in its curriculum by providing students the opportunity to perform in several shows a year, with professional directors, choreographers, actors, singers and dancers. This year's performance schedule will include The Ja'Duke Holiday Spectacular (December 2010) Chitty Chitty Bang Bang (May 2011) and the seventh annual JCPA Showcase (June 2011).

Immersing students in a performance-based atmosphere will allow them to take the technical skills learned in classes and apply them in actual performance situations. JCPA endeavors to equip students with knowledge and experience to develop in the various areas of performing arts.
